My Own Turkey Story

The photo feature on James McGough and his mammoth turkey-raising contract with Mountaire Poultry in Tuesday's Star was not our first engagement for turkey pictures.

Several years ago we did the same job for Eldridge Formby at Patmos. While the total contract wasn't as large, 30,000 turkeys against 118,000 for the Emmet venture, it was divided into four pens holding 7,500 each, against 4,000 for McGough.

Both of these enterprises fascinated me, especially the behavior of the turkeys. They came crowding in on a stranger as though they were lonesome—so theirs would be a study in how to be lonesome even in a crowd.

Every turkey, of course, has a personal tragedy—the impending date with Thanksgiving or Christmas. But he doesn't know that. A trusting and happy bird he lives only for today.

This is marvelous turkey-raising country, with a long warm season and not too much rain. It wasn't like that in the Pennsylvania mountains of my boyhood on a farm.

My story is about 25 young turkeys a neighbor sent over to our place to be raised "on halves." Our father made the deal. I squawked, for I was the one who was going to be held responsible for bringing off the turkey crop. I knew we had no housing or elevated pens to keep the young turks off the wet ground of a Pennsylvania Spring. A wet turkey chick is likely to take pneumonia and die.

And so they did, one by one, until we were down to three.

Just three nearly-grown turkeys—out of the original 25. Then some varmint came down out of the woods at night—and there were only two.

We backed the hay wagon out of the barn and ran over a turkey—and then there was one.

You guessed it.

Out of those 25 young turkeys we produced just one mature bird—and, following the letter of the contract, our neighbor came over just before Thanksgiving and claimed it.

Disasters like that I don't need.

Fire school is underway

The Hope Fire Department has a Regional Fire School in progress and for the next two weeks representatives from surrounding towns Prescott, Lewisville, Nashville, Texarkana, Foreman, Gurdon and Hope will have men attending. Also expected to attend are members from the Washington, Blevins and Ashdown Fire Departments.

The Department of Fire Service Technology, Southwest Technical Institute, located in East Camden, is promoting the schools, and Hope was selected as a sectional center for this district.

The school is a state wide fire school headed by Whit Murphy; aiding him is his staff Elmo Anderson and Gene Hendrix. This year's subject is "salvage and overhaul" leaving the scene of a fire in as good a condition as possible.

Rockefeller requesting tax refund

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit was filed in U. S. District Court here Tuesday by former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who is asking for a $105,115 refund in federal excise taxes paid by Petit Jean Air Service.

The suit contended Rockefeller was due a tax refund for the years 1964 to 1971 because the air service did not constitute a taxable transportation service under the internal revenue code.

Rockefeller was sole stockholder of the firm, which was organized to limit his personal liability in the event his jet plane collided with a commercial airliner, the suit said.

Appointment to county ES announced

Roger L. Bates, who has served as assistant county extension agent for Miller County since January 1971, has been promoted to associate county extension agent and transferred to Hempstead County, C. A. Vines, director, Cooperative Extension Service, has announced.

Bates was born in Walters, Oklahoma. He attended Cameron College at Lawton, Oklahoma, two years and then transferred to Oklahoma State University at Stillwater. He earned his bachelor of science and master of science degrees from OSU in animal science.

ROGER BATES

In Miller County, he has worked in the general extension education program with emphasis on livestock, forage production, and the 4-H and youth program. He was reared on a small livestock farm in southwest Oklahoma and is the son of F. L. Bates who now lives in Long Beach, Calif. He is married to the former Jacquelyn Gayle Monson of Oklahoma. They have a son, Scott Allen, who is one year old.

The transfer appointments both effective Sept. 1, are subject to approval of the president of the University of Arkansas.

FAYETTEVILLE — Overall agricultural production in Arkansas in 1971 was bigger and better than ever, according to the 1971 Agricultural Statistics for Arkansas.

The publication, recently released, is Report Series 202 and it is a joint effort of the University of Arkansas Agricultural Experiment Station and the USDA Statistical Reporting Service.

Hempstead County, located in District 7, had 944 farms listed in the book of statistics; the farms totaled 213,057 acres of the county's total 464,640 acres. The average size of the farm was 225.6 acres.

Total 1971 value of production of Arkansas farm products (excluding government payments) was not quite $1.3 billion ($1,276 million), up 7.6 percent over 1970. Crops showed the greatest gain in value over the previous year primarily due to larger cotton production which was marketed at favorable prices. Livestock and poultry also demonstrated an increase in value over 1970. Crops (excluding greenhouse, nursery and forest products) totaled $670 million or 52.5 percent of the total. Value of livestock and products, including poultry, totaled $606 million, 47.5 percent of the total.

Soybeans continued to be the top-ranking commodity in 1971. Broilers kept second place. Cotton moved ahead of cattle and calves to take over third place. Rice and eggs retained fifth and sixth rankings, respectively. Each of these six commodities contributed $100 million or more and account for about 85

'Demogrant' plan is ditched

NEW YORK (AP) — George McGovern, ditching the much-disputed idea of a $1,000 "demogrant" for everyone and saying he would like a conservative Southerner to head the Treasury in his administration, appeared today to have reinforced his bid to moderate in the Democratic party and the electorate at large.

Such tough tax elements as a proposal to end the favorable treatment of capital gains went over, as one analyst put it, like a lead balloon.

But a number of McGovern's Wall Street audience were intrigued by his surprise announcement that, if he were elected, he would offer the Treasury secretaryship to Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Mills is regarded on Capital Hill as a pragmatist but essentially a conservative. Reached at his home in Kensett, Ark., he did not reject out of hand the possibility of serving in a McGovern administration.

"If he's elected and actually offered it to me, I'd have to think about it," Mills said.

Arthur M. Moren Jr., investment officer for the Chemical Bank of New York, commented that McGovern's tax proposals had not won much support on Wall Street but that the mention of Mills was received enthusiastically because there is "great respect for Mills in the financial community."

Dropping the idea of welfare reform through a $1,000 a person allocation that would be recouped in taxes on the affluent and comfortable, McGovern outlined a plan not unlike President Nixon's, but with a bigger family income base — $4,000 for four persons instead of $2,400. Details were left vague, with the explanation they still were to be worked on.

Other elements of the program McGovern outlined were: —A $22 billion tax reform package, to be phased in by 1975. Beside taxation of capital gains at regular rates and at the owner's death, it includes a federal subsidy to induce states and cities to discontinue issuance of bonds with tax exempt interest, elimination of the present petroleum depletion allowance and one-year drilling chargeoff, repeal of speeded up depreciation, special real estate writeoffs, favorable treatment of income earned by foreign and export subsidiaries, nonfarmers' agricultural tax shelters along with, ultimately, some tightening of the investment credit.

—Also proposed, though not as an immediate revenue increase, was a new system of estate and gift taxes with rates, like those of the income tax, based on an individual's receipts rather than the size of the estate.

—Reduction of the top-bracket tax rate from 70 per cent to 48 per cent.

Nevada County Fair slated Sept. 19-22

The 36th annual Nevada County Fair will be held Sept. 19-22, announced Ellis Stewart, president of the Nevada County Fair Association. "One Hundred Years in Nevada County" is the theme chosen by the float committee for the opening day parade.

A carnival will be featured on the midway from Tuesday through Saturday during fair week, Stewart stated. Advance carnival tickets and fair catalogs are available at the Chamber of Commerce office before the fair opens. Carnival tickets will be sold at a reduced price.

Further details of the complete program for the four-day event will be published at a later date Stewart said. All schools, civic clubs, and community organizations have been requested to begin making plans for their floats to be entered in the parade and when a float title has been selected to notify the Chamber office at 887-2101.

The Fair Queen Contest will be sponsored by the Prescott B & PW Club under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robbie Wilson. Girls between the ages of 16 and 21, who have never been married, and who wish to compete in the Nevada County Fair Queen contest, are asked to contact Mrs. Wilson at 887-3386.

Asylum: 'Man in Saigon'

McGovern advocates asylum for Thieu

NEW YORK (AP) — South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu should be offered political asylum in the United States if he feels endangered by a postwar settlement, Democratic Presidential candidate George McGovern said today.

"General Thieu has been our man in Saigon," McGovern said. "We put him there. He may not represent the ideals of democracy, but he's our man."

"If he and some of his friends feel endangered by a postwar settlement, I think we ought to welcome him here," the South Dakota senator said following an appearance on the NBC "Today" show.

Two weeks ago, in an interview with newsmen in Milwaukee, McGovern had said he expected Thieu and his colleagues would flee Saigon into exile should a Communist-dominated government take over South Vietnam.

"I would expect Gen. Thieu and his cohorts to leave very quickly," he said in that interview. "My guess is that they would leave if I won the election and that there would be an exodus of the top generals and political figures out of the country and that emerging behind that would be (a) coalition that would be willing to deal with Hanoi."

McGovern's remarks today came as he prepared for appearances for later in the day where he planned to charge that the Nixon administration is virtually abandoning Jews in Russia and Israel while overlooking their needs in the United States.

94 airmen lost in VN

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that 94 American airmen have been lost in North Vietnam since the start of the Communist offensive last March 30 that was met by sharp escalation of the U.S. air war against the North. The toll increased to 94 with the delayed announcement that three fliers and two F4 Phantoms were lost last Saturday and Sunday. One man, Marine 1st Lt. Darrel Borders, 33, of Herrin, Ill., was rescued.

A total of 84 American jets have been downed in North Vietnam since March 30, the U.S. Command said.

Hanoi Radio has announced the names of more than 20 of the fliers who it said were captured. Borders' F4 was shot down by a North Vietnamese MIG Saturday near the Laotian border 92 miles southwest of Hanoi. He was picked up despite a hail of fire that damaged two rescue helicopters.

School opening is near

All schools will run on a half-day schedule beginning Tuesday, Sept. 5, through Friday, September 8. No classes will be held Monday.

All lunchrooms will open next Tuesday, Sept. 11, for the first full day schedule. The price of lunches will be 35 cents for elementary and 40 cents for junior and senior high school.

The time schedule for all schools will be as follows:

Elementary Schools will open at 8:15 a.m. and close at 2:55 p.m.

Verger Junior High will open at 8:30 a.m. and close at 3:00 p.m.

Hope High School will open at 8:30 a.m. and close at 3:15 p.m.

The time schedule for the half-day program Sept. 5-8, will be 8 to 11:30 a.m.

Buses will run for registration days which is as follows:

Thursday, Aug. 31 Grades 1,2,3,7,9,10 8:30 — 11:00 a.m.
Friday, Sept. 1 — Grades 4,5,6,8,11,12 8:30 — 11:00 a.m.

In order to meet the need of consumable instructional materials in the Hope elementary schools, the Hope Board of Education finds it necessary to charge a fee of $3.00 per child, grades 1 - 6, according to James Jones, Superintendent.

The fee is due on registration day, he said.

This is only a part of the cost of the consumable instructional material as a large part of the reading program was purchased by other means, Jones said.

Agricultural production is bigger and better percent of the total value of agricultural production on Arkansas farms. Milk, turkeys, hay and hogs in the order named round out the list of the top ten agricultural commodities in Arkansas.

Arkansas farmers harvested 4,266,000 acres of soybeans in 1971, down slightly over one percent from 1970. Soybeans comprise about 58 percent of the total harvested acreage for all crops. Arkansas ranked third in the nation for soybean acres harvested, exceeded only by Illinois and Iowa.

Arkansas' soybean production was fifth in the nation. Yields were below 1970 because of dry weather late in the growing season. Production at nearly 92 million bushels was 5.5 percent below 1970.

Hempstead County ranked second to Miller County in this district in soybean production with 26,800 acres harvested yielding an average of 24.0 bushels per acre. Total bushels produced in 1971 reached 643,000.

Cotton production totaled 1,236,000 equivalent 480-pound net weight bales compared with 1970 production of 1,048,000 bales.

Rice production amounted to 21.8 million hundredweight in 1971, about four percent above the previous year. A new record high yield was established at 4,950 pounds of rice per acre.

Commercial broiler production increased nearly six percent during 1971 and over 476 million birds were marketed. Arkansas leads all states in

Adult education classes are set

Adult education classes in the Hope School District will begin Sept. 11. Classes will be on all grade levels from grades 1 through 12. There will be no charge for attendance in these classes; any person 18 years old or older may attend. State Department of Education certificates will be given to persons completing the eighth grade level. Persons who enroll on the high school level may take the GED test and earn a High School Equivalency diploma.

Evening classes will be conducted at the Red River Vocational Technical School, Yerger Junior High School, Paisley Elementary School, Hopewell Elementary School and Fulton School.

Classes will meet two nights each week for three hours totaling six hours per week.

The 1970 census shows that Hempstead County had 3,420 adults who had not completed the eighth grade and 4,587 adults who were between the ninth and 12th grade level. This gives a total of 8,007 adults in the county who are eligible for the program.

Enrollment may be made at the office at Red River Vocational-Technical School, or Hope school administrative office, Second and Walnut Sts., or phone 777-5722, 777-2251 and 777-5773 or contact Will V. Rutherford.

senator said Nixon "has been silent in the face of the continuing persecution of Soviet Jews."

As for Israel, McGovern said, "the administration's objective is not to insure the security of Israel but to expel the Russians from the Middle East."

"Once that objective is achieved," McGovern said in a speech to the New York Board of Rabbis, "Mr. Nixon will again pressure Israel to withdraw without the basic guarantees of safety that only direct negotiation can insure."

McGovern repeated his intention of standing by Israel if he becomes president. He attempted to dispel, as he has in past appearances before Jewish groups, a belief among some Jews that his plans to cut the U.S. defense budget by over $30 billion per year would jeopardize Israel's security.

But for the first time in any recent McGovern speech to a Jewish group, the senator dwelled heavily on domestic issues, including crime in the streets, poverty and old age security.

"It does no good to have a decent job if you do not feel safe in your own hallway or your own elevator," McGovern said. "In New York City this year there will be 2,000 murders. And these will be just part of the steady increase in crime in America since my opponent promised to return the nation to law and order."

McGovern also called attention to the 250,000 Jews in New York City who he said live below the poverty line.

"They have not benefited from antipoverty programs as much as others in New York, either because they are ineligible or because they are discouraged from applying," he said.

In another speech for a noon rally for Soviet Jews, McGovern said their plight "cannot be buried under our efforts to expand world trade and cultural contacts. It cannot be an afterthought to our efforts for world peace."

The Jewish voter turnout on election day is traditionally much higher than the public at large, thus adding to the importance of Jews, especially in New York State.

Wright heads Boosters

In its first meeting of the 1972-73 season, the Hope Booster Club elected George Wright, Jr., president, Jake Honea, vice president, and Ronnie Phillips, secretary-treasurer.

The club will sponsor a membership drive in cooperation with the junior high and senior high pep squads, a spokesman said. For each membership a girl sells the pep squad will receive 25 cents. The girl selling the most memberships will be awarded a $10 cash prize. Second prize will be $5 and third prize will be $2.50.

The next Booster Club meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 5, at the Hope High School science building. President George Wright urges all interested persons to attend.

Smokey the Bear: Talking with an Arkansas twang

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — If Smokey the Bear steps out of the Ozark woods in Missouri and cautions against forest fires, he'll probably talk with an Arkansas twang.

So says the state Department of Conservation, which announced Tuesday it will not stock bears in Missouri after studying an 11-year restocking program in Arkansas.

Occasionally a black bear is seen in Missouri. But more often than not, the Conservation Department says, the bear wandered across the line from Arkansas.

Missouri had bears in the days of Daniel Boone, and "Mighty Mo" the bear is on the state seal.

The savage timbering of the Ozarks in the early 1900s just about eliminated the black bear as well as turkeys and deer. The turkeys and deer have come back under a long range management program.

All Around Town

Any boy interested in joining the Cub Scouts, aged 8, 9, or 10, can sign up on Rally Night, Tuesday, September 5 from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Boy Scout Hut in Fair Park.

Anyone interested in taking the following college courses should be at the School Administration Building Thursday, Aug. 31, at 7 p.m. to register: Children's Literature - (A requirement for elementary education majors); reading course - (Graduate or undergraduate); and fundamental math. A minimum of 10 per class is required to offer a course.

Private drive is for school traffic only

The private school drive on the east side of Yerger Junior High is for school traffic only, James Jones, superintendent, reminded this week.

"This drive is for parents bringing children to Yerger Junior High," Jones said. "There is an entrance on Shover and Spruce Sts. and on 9th Street. This will be a two-way drive at present. No through traffic will be allowed - this is not a public street," he stated.

All buses will use the Walker Street drive that has been closed to through traffic, Jones said. "No parking will be allowed on Shover St. or in bus loading zone," he said, and "this rule applies to all schools."

Missouri may benefit from Arkansas' restocking program, says game biologist Frank Sampson, who put together a report on bears for the Missouri Conservation Commission. "Some of these bears have moved around considerably," Sampson says. "What seems to be our best available bear range Taney County near the Arkansas line now is stocked to some extent."

South Vietnamese abandon highway

SAIGON (AP) — After nearly five months of grinding, bloody battle, the South Vietnamese have abandoned efforts to open Highway 13 to An Loc and are reverting to "mobile tactics" to forestall a threat to Saigon, military sources said today.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, the commander in the Saigon region, has put a new task force of some 10,000 troops into the field.

Government forces have given up all fixed bases along the 15-mile stretch of Highway 13 between Chon Thanh and An Loc, a stretch where they had been stalled in costly fighting since early May.

The sources said the North Vietnamese forces now appear to be trying to move south toward Saigon on courses paralleling the highway. Some officials believe this is part of a new offensive effort that, according to captured documents, is being readied for the immediate Saigon area next month.

President Nguyen Van Thieu predicted such an effort in a

"The occurrence of cub bears indicates reproduction. It appears that, given time, the bears themselves will serve as indicators as to how suitable our bear habitat may be for them, providing they don't run afoul of too many violators."

Bears are not legal game in Missouri and anyone killing one is subject to arrest.

Of the 65 reports of bears from game division personnel in the last 10 years, 12 were killed.

"That indicates some disregard for the protection of these animals," Sampson says. "Since it cost Arkansas some $800 to $700 each for its several hundred bears released between 1957-68, it wouldn't be much fun to stock the animals only to have them killed."

Eighteen cubs have been found in Missouri, Sampson says. The sightings occur both in North and South Missouri, but mostly in the deep Ozarks—in Carter, Ozark and Taney counties.

The Arkansas bears were brought from Minnesota—being trapped near Ely and Winton—and were released in the Ozark mountains in northern Arkansas and in the Ouachita mountains in Western Arkansas.

broiler production. Egg production in 1971 at 3.5 billion was about the same as a year earlier. Combined value of poultry production is approximately $367 million or about 29 percent of the total gross value of agricultural production in Arkansas.

In broiler production in District 7 Howard County reported 30,070,000 broilers raised followed by Hempstead County reporting 15,561,000 broilers.

Meat animal production gained sharply over 1970. Cattle and calves accounted for most of the gain in meat production. January 1, inventory estimated for cattle and calves totaled 1,912,000 or seven percent more than in 1970.

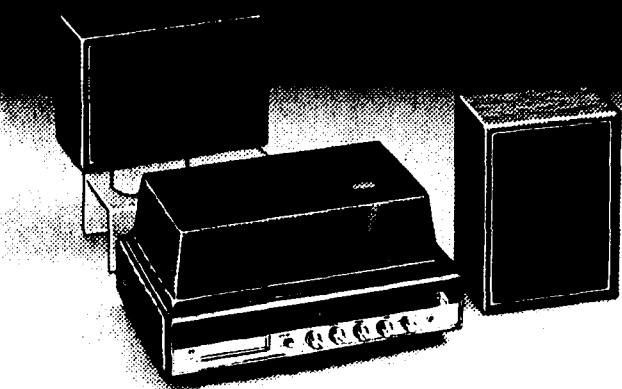

This county ranked first in livestock production in the district reporting 48,800 head of cattle and calves, 1,100 milk cows, and 2,900 hogs and pigs. Little River is listed second with 34,400 cattle and calves, 400 milk cows and 1,200 hogs and pigs.

In corn production Hempstead County reported only 500 acres harvested with a 32.0 bushel yield per acre.

Wheat production in the county totaled a mere 300 acres harvested averaging 21.0 bushels per acres with a total of 6,300 bushels produced during 1971.

Helen Help Us!

The Parting of the Waves

Dear Helen:
Watching the recent political convention, I was struck by the vanity of men. Instead of going bald in a dignified way, a great many of these aging "leaders" comb their hair in such ridiculous ways that they only make their baldness more obvious. (And those convention camera angles show an amazing number of bald pates.)

Take the man with the part about an inch above his right ear and long, stringy strands of hair pulled over to the left, plastered over his bald spot. Or the guy who pulls his hair from behind as a cover. I kept hoping for a strong wind (political hot air wasn't enough) that would put things straight (down).

Why can't men grow old gracefully? —WOMAN

Dear Woman:
Unless you're a man with a bald spot, I don't think you have a right to ask that question. If YOU had a glaring "lack," wouldn't you do your darndest to cover it? (But, I'll have to admit, a hairpiece would do a better job.) —H.

Dear Helen:
For 24 years I entertained my children and grandchildren each summer at my beach home. They came early in the summer and there was always a mob of relatives around until fall. I had a good job and enjoyed their company, but I can't help remembering I paid all the expenses, including food, and did a good part of the housework while they were "vacationing."

Two years ago I lost my job (the company folded), and had to sell my beach house. The children resented this, but no one of the family offered to buy it. I needed the money to live on, as I hadn't saved much toward my old age, and my present work doesn't pay well. I'll soon be on Social Security, which pays considerably less!

This year the family got together and rented a beach house. Oh no, they didn't "forget" me! They wrote and told me my share of the expenses would be $500, and they expected me to pitch in, even though I could only be there a few weekends. When I told them I couldn't manage it, they implied I was putting a hardship on the others. Naturally I have not been invited down.

I'm trying not to feel hurt, but I remember all those years I gave my family a summer home. Because I don't advertise or groan about my changed financial status, they think I am cheap. Would it be best to simply drop out of their lives? —GRANDMOTHER (SIGNED IN RED INK)

Dear Grandmother:
Why not instead, forget your pride, and tell the family you're nearly broke? Those years when you played the great provider have spoiled them. Evidently they still consider you "Mama Cash"—and perhaps you prefer it that way—but it's time they learned the truth. —H.

Dear Helen:
I was told to save empty packs from cigarettes and send them to any tobacco company, to help buy wheel chairs and pay for shots for mentally ill children. I've saved quite a few and now someone tells me it's a hoax. Please inform. —G.H.

Dear G.:
It's a cruel hoax, and it has caused considerable embarrassment and trouble for cigarette companies who are trying to get the word around: DON'T SAVE YOUR EMPTY CIGARETTE PACKAGES. THEY ARE NOT REDEEMABLE!

(If you have a lot on hand, savers everywhere, maybe the recycling center will take them.) —H.

About those technical words

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I read your article on angiograms and coronary catheterization, and I was particularly interested because I have had this procedure done. It wasn't a very comfortable feeling and it took a long time. Anyway, the doctors were satisfied with my X rays and told me I have idiopathic hypertrophic subaortic stenosis. Of course, the doctor went on to explain what each word meant but I've forgotten and would like for you to explain.

Dear Reader — Idiopathic is a fancy medical word that we doctors use to say we don't know what causes the problem. It sounds a lot better than saying I don't know. Hyper means excessive and

Back to normal fashions

Paris goes feminine for fall '72

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS — (NEA) — Things are back to normal in Paris. Shoulders, waistline and hips are back where nature intended them to be. And the Paris couture collections for Fall/Winter 1972 carried the message that elegance is here and gimmicks a thing of the past. One sign of the new trend toward femininity is that pantsuits were in the minority.

Here are some of the salient points of the collections:

GIVENCHY: His signature tune is the coat with tiny fluted sleeves worn indifferently over the daytime suit, dress or long-sleeved evening gown in vivid color combinations.

His suits have swinging pleated skirts and easy-fitted longer jackets. Coats vary in length. For evening he shows infant dresses worked in great chessboard squares alternating velvet and taffeta. Over these spectacular gowns go flowing evening coats, usually sleeveless.

PATOU and FERAUD: These collections were voted the youngest in the season's crop. Goma at Jean Patou concentrated on a "Gigi-up-to-date" line—gay, pinafore dresses, soft and full, sometimes with a deep collar, worn over long-sleeved shirts in black satin or a contrasting color. He resolutely endorsed the feminine evening dress.

Feraud, on the other hand, did some amusing piping work on his red, white or navy day ensembles with flared skirts and fitted jackets.

LANVIN: This collection by Crahay was a lot of color and amusing ideas. Extra wide, extra large plaid pants were shown with brief jackets with wide reverse or maxi coats. His evening line is spectacular with ultrawide "volume dresses" made of a double cape in sheer fabric or a princess sheath with a deep fringe of swaying rooster feathers.

Pink cardigan in cashmere (left) in the new length over a matching pink silk blouse and pleated speckled brown tweed skirt makes for a relaxed, young impression. Painter's smock in gray velvet plus a shirt in bright plaid silk plus a pleated red and gray tweed skirt are shown (right). These designs from Saint Laurent Rive Gauche DIOR: The leitmotif was the order of the day in Marc Bohan's collection—reversible wool or gray flannel faced with fuchsia, orange, vermilion and a new Dior blue, usually repeated in the soft brimmed slouch hats. Bohan endorsed the long and shorter fox stole dyed in autumn shades for daytime as well as evening wear.

COURREGES: The man who swore five years ago that in no time at all women's wardrobes would be composed of practically nothing but pantsuits has succumbed to the feminine trend. He still shows pants but he also shows naive, structured dresses with raised waistlines.

CHANEL: Chanel's spirit only just hovered above the collection, which in essence, was unchanged but in details seemed to miss her magic touch. The fabric story here is still exciting. But the riot of flares and flounces and frills in the evening line were not quite up to the standard set by Coco.

UNGARO: This designer, the youngest of them all, showed the greatest surprise collection. Instead of the beat of the tomtoms as in the past it was the soft lilt of a Strauss waltz that seemed to have inspired him this season. Young, slender, beautifully cut coats in white and pastels with the fullness gathered into a drawstring waist belt opened the collection.

GRES: Madame Gres' collection, while small, was as eclectic as ever. Gowns had subtle drapes inspired by Greece and daytime clothes were in color combinations that one sees nowhere else.

Bridal breakfast fetes Miss Taylor

On the morning of her wedding to Terry Turner, August 18, Miss Rita Taylor was feted with a bridal breakfast in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Lois Russell, with a cousin, Miss Shannan Russell of Washington, D.C., co-hostess. Blue, the bride's chosen color, was used for the decorations on the table. Covers were laid for 12, including the mothers of the wedding couple, Mrs. Orval Taylor and Mrs. A.Z. Turner.

South ruffed the third round of hearts and hummed softly to himself. If you had listened carefully, you would have noted the words were: "Where, o where is the king of diamonds? Where, o where can it be?"

Look at the hand. You can see his problem. If East holds the king, he can enter dummy with a high trump; lead the queen of diamonds and let it ride. Then he can play ace, king and a third club. The defense will win its third trick, but South will be able to ruff the fourth club in dummy and make his game.

Suppose West has the king of diamonds. The finesse will lose and eventually South will have to lose his fourth trick to the queen or jack of clubs.

South didn't hum very long because he knew where the king of diamonds was. West had opened the bidding with a heart with just seven high card points in that suit. Without the king of diamonds West could not hold more than 10 high card points and would not have made a vulnerable opening bid. As extra confirmation, East had passed the one heart opening. He might well have responded with the king of diamonds and three hearts to the queen.

Since he knew where the monarch was located, South proceeded to make his contract. He simply led his low diamond toward dummy. West did the best he could. He rose with his king and led a trump.

South won in his hand; cashed the diamond ace; played two more rounds of trumps to stop in dummy, and discarded his two small clubs on the queen and jack of diamonds.

'All because I stuck my fist in the air'

By IRA BERKOW

MUNICH — (NEA) — "What's it been like the last four years? Miserable. I beg here, borrow there, steal here. Hustlin'. When you grow up in a ghetto like Harlem you learn how to hustle," said John Carlos. "Nobody'll hire me. I'm an untouchable. All because I took my fist and stuck it in the air."

"Say, what you want, an interview? I need money. I got a wife and two little kids that I been making promises to. Then I show up empty. Come across with some bread, huh?"

Carlos slumped slightly in his chair in the athletic shoe store in the Olympic Village here, stroked his beard, stretched out his long legs and agreed tacitly to talk.

Athletes in a rainbow of sweat suits came in to look at shoes, joke and slap palms with Carlos. He is not here as a participant because a short-lived pro football career ended his amateur standing. He is in fact working in the store. He says the shoe company paid his transportation and room here. But that's all. He says he must pick up all other expenses.

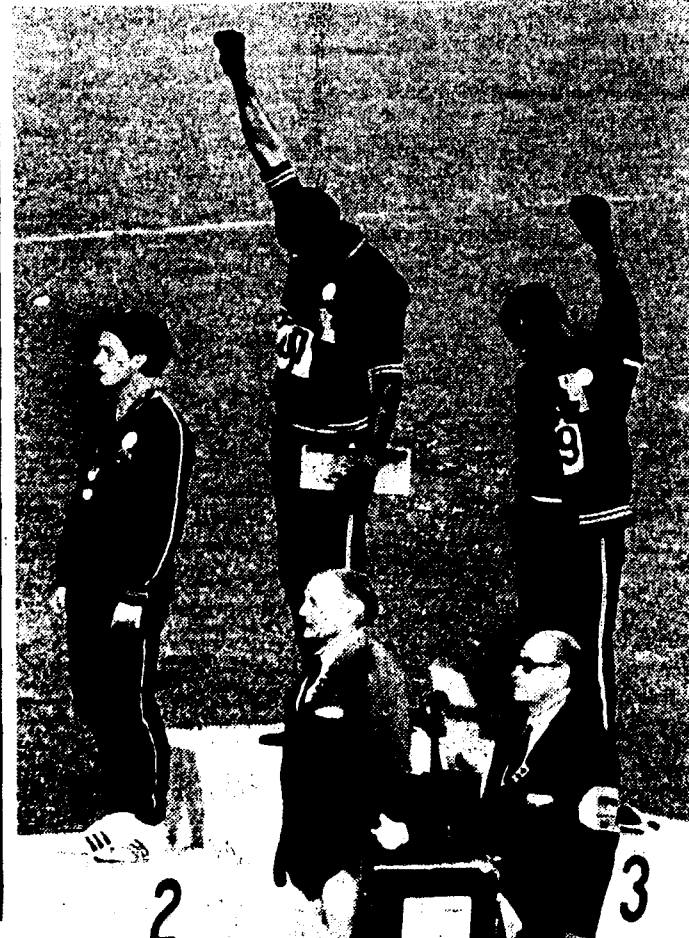

He had wanted an executive job with the company, whose shoes he has been wearing and promoting for 10 years ("before other cats ever even heard of 'em"), but says he was refused. "They said I give 'em a bum image in Mexico City."

In what has been variously described as an heroic, dumb, humanitarian, evil act, John Carlos and Tommie Smith each gave black-gloved Black Power salutes as they received their bronze and gold medals respectively after the 200-meter race in the 1968 Olympics. They were immediately expelled from the Olympic Village there. Carlos said Tommie Smith had had to "hustle" too, until he recently became assistant athletic director at Oberlin College.

Why did Carlos give the salute? "I tried to do something for mankind," he said. "I wanted to make some kind of statement about the injustices all over the world, not just America. I wanted people to wake up to what's happening in the world. One half the world is rich, the other half is starving. It should be balanced."

Is he involved in any kind of Olympic boycott action here?

"No, and I don't think there will be any from an individual standpoint. The athletes seem younger now, and not so socially conscious. I'm not talking about the nation-to-nation thing. That's something else."

"But that's part of the whole political thing about the Olympics. Don Scholander told it straight. He said the Olympics are more political than the presidential elections. You know, why do you have to wear the uniform of your country here? Why do they play national anthems? Why do we have to beat the Russians? Why do the East Germans want to beat the West Germans? Why can't everyone wear the same colors but wear numbers to tell 'em apart?"

What happened to the Olympic ideal of man against man?"

Has anything concrete come from his action in 1968?

"I think some people, maybe even guys in our government, got their heads together better about some issues like race."

Did he learn anything from the experience?

Olympic pressure building

(Editor's note: Debbie Meyer swam to three individual gold medals to become the heroine of the U.S. Olympic team in Mexico City four years ago. Now, at age 20, she has retired from swimming and is working for The Associated Press at the 1972 Games. Here, she looks at pressure on superstar athletes.)

By DEBBIE MEYER
1968 Triple Gold Medalist

MUNICH (AP) — Mark Spitz crumbled under the pressure in the 1968 Olympic Games. I watched it happen and the sight wasn't pretty. At the 1972 games at Munich, it is obviously a whole new ballgame.

After what he's taken in the four-year interlude, Spitz deserves all the golden pleasure he can derive from the Munich Olympics. I think he will do the impossible ... win seven gold medals.

To an amateur athlete, especially a swimmer, an Olympic gold is the promised land. My three from 1968 are in a bank safe deposit vault in Sacramento, Calif.

It was five years ago when I first began swimming in regular meets with Mark Spitz. He was grown tremendously since then, both as a contestant and as a man.

He was 18 and immature at Mexico City, he predicted five gold medals and then buckled under the pressure. There's nothing more vulnerable in the press than a pundit who fails to back up his word. Now, at age 22, Mark is more mature.

Since I was fortunate enough to be in the Olympic spotlight in 1968, I can sympathize with Spitz. I couldn't sleep because of the phone calls ... the knocks at my door. I was bugged every time I walked down the street.

Getting your required rest becomes impossible. There's someone every few minutes asking for "just one more interview" or "just one more picture."

Your privacy goes out of the window.

It's a series of putting on that little fake smile for the news cameras when you're dead tired and need to rest for the next event. But, I tried to handle it since I know news writers have a job to do.

Maybe some people enjoy being singled—being labeled as a "superstar." Not me. I like being just plain, old Debbie Meyer with normal friends and normal activities.

I believe Mark Spitz, the Mark I know, is much the same. He's a great guy with his real friends. But, when outsiders come around, the spotlight immediately hits him and that somewhat bugs Mark.

Spitz has changed plenty since Mexico. He is probably the greatest swimmer in the world's history.

There was never a person so God-blessed with swimming ability. He was great even with a lot of goofing off in practice. But, even with all these physical pluses, Mark Spitz proved in 1968 that you will be a failure if your head's not perking on all circuits.

...U.S. Hope In The Hurdles

Joltin' Joe: Slinging the pigskin

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Sometimes after practice Arkansas split end Mike Reppond peels off his jersey and discovers red welts and bruises on his chest below his shoulder pads.

"That gives you some idea just how hard Joe Ferguson throws the football," says Reppond. "Against Texas A&M last year, he threw the ball 65 yards across the field on a roll-out pattern."

"On an out-pattern on the wide side of the field, he throws a 40-yard pass six feet off the ground like an arrow. You catch it out of self preservation or you get impaled."

Reppond is the roommate of Ferguson, the Arkansas quarterback who is a bonafide All-American and Heisman Trophy candidate.

The fleet, sticky-fingered Reppond will rattle on for hours in awe of Ferguson, who is the reason the Razorbacks are picked to win the Southwest Conference football championship and perhaps a high national ranking.

"When I was a freshman, I couldn't hold on to his passes," Reppond says. "But I've learned to concentrate and I can catch them now. But it's amazing how much stronger, better and more accurate he gets each year. You would think he has improved to the limit of his ability...but each year he is just better."

Coach Frank Broyles says Ferguson is the best pressure player "I've ever had the privilege of coaching. He isn't bothered by a pressure in the least. The more pressure the more he seems to respond to the positive side."

Broyles says Ferguson has the quickest release he has seen.

"It happens so fast, it's hard to see and it's even faster this fall," Broyles says. "We've never been able to time his release."

However, Ferguson can tell you how fast he should release the football.

"I should release the ball from the time of the snap in 2.5 seconds," he says. "It's asking a lot of an offensive lineman to have to block three or four seconds."

Ferguson said he had studied films of the release of New York Jets quarterback Joe Namath.

"I feel he's the best quarterback around," Ferguson says. "It's a shame about his knees. Now, he really has a quick release."

Ferguson, a senior, says he would love to win the Heisman Trophy but says "for me to win it, we would have to win the national title."

Ferguson spent the summer building up the triceps muscle in his powerful right arm.

"Some people think you should build up the bicep muscle, but it's the triceps muscle that pulls the arm down," he said. "I think my arm is stronger and I'm throwing harder than ever."

Reppond definitely thinks so. He's got the bullseye bruises on his chest to prove it.

Alexandria is assured of title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Alexandria clinched at least a tie for the Texas League East Division title Tuesday night, and Amarillo blew a chance to put a big dent in El Paso's West Division margin.

Alexandria beat Arkansas 6-1 to clinch the tie despite second-place Memphis' 3-2 triumph over Shreveport. In the West, first-place El Paso bowed to Midland 4-3, but Amarillo picked up just half a game on the Sun Dodgers by splitting a twin bill with last-place San Antonio, losing 6-0 and winning 10-5.

Grant Steer hit a three-run homer in the ninth inning for Alexandria to break a tie and spark a five-run inning against Arkansas. The Aces now have a six-game lead over Memphis with six games to play for each.

SUCH IS THE DEDICATION of Bobby Fischer that he even takes his chess board into swimming pools.

Another draw is predicted

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — The 20th game in the world chess championship continues today with the kibitzing grandmasters predicting another draw or just possibly a win for Boris Spassky.

Spassky, fighting stubbornly to hold onto the title everyone expects him to lose, blunted an attack by Bobby Fischer Tuesday in the early stages of the game and then slowly squeezed the American challenger in a long endgame that adjourned in the 40th move.

The Russian clearly was trying hard for the win he needed to stay in the match. Fischer, leading 11-8, needs only 1½ more points to take the title, while Spassky needs four points to retain it. With a win counting a point and a draw half a point for each player, Fischer needs only a win and a draw or three draws. But Spassky must win at least three of the remaining games and draw the other two.

Fischer, playing the white pieces, opened with his favorite pawn to king four for the fifth time in the match. Spassky chose the Sicilian Defense, which gives black good counter-attacking chances.

The game was guided into the Rauzer Variation and the players castled on opposite sides of the board — often the signal for fierce pawn assaults on the kings. Fischer controlled more space, and Spassky was content with a cramped but solid development.

Instead of pawn storms, piece exchanges followed. Fischer's attack spent itself before the 20th move, although he kept a rook planted deep in Russian territory.

Grandmaster William Lombardy, Fischer's second, said the position appeared even but he would prefer to play the black side.

The words were prophetic.

Spassky, easing his feet out of his shoes for comfort between occasional strolls offstage, advanced pawns first on the queen's side of the board and then on the king's side.

Fischer gradually gave ground and Spassky finally liberated a bishop — a powerful fighter at long range in an end game with few pieces left.

Red Sox's Luis Tiant

Meet Mr. Excitement

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

When the Boston Red Sox won their last pennant in 1967, Jose Santiago was the pitcher who brought them through an exciting stretch run.

Meet Mr. Excitement of 1972—Luis Tiant.

"I think that he's as good as any right-hander in the American League right now," said Chicago Manager Chuck Tanner after Tiant pitched a 3-0 beauty against his White Sox Tuesday night.

Tiant, 9-4, recorded his third straight shutout and fifth straight victory with a five-hitter—an impressive performance reminiscent of Santiago's spectacular finish in '67 when he won eight games in a row.

All five of Tiant's last starts have been complete games. He's allowed just five earned runs, 21 hits and six walks while striking out 37 batters in that time.

Tiant's latest triumph kept the Red Sox three games behind the leaders in the tinging American League East race.

The Baltimore Orioles trounced the Minnesota Twins 9-4 and pulled into a first-place tie with Detroit after the Tigers lost 3-1 to the California Angels.

The American League West race was no less uncertain after Tuesday night's action. Chicago's loss dropped the White Sox into second place and the Oakland A's took over the top spot by a half-game after beating the Cleveland Indians 1-0.

The New York Yankees beat the Texas Rangers 7-6 in 11 innings in the first game of a doubleheader before losing the second, 7-4, and the Kansas City Royals defeated the Milwaukee Brewers 6-4 in other American League action.

Rudy May fired a four-hitter and Leo Cardenas came through with a two-run single in the eighth to lead California over Detroit. Bill Freehan got three of the hits off May, including a home run in the ninth.

Bert Campaneris drove in the only run of the game with a fifth-inning single and Jim "Catfish" Hunter and Darold Knowles combined on a three-hitter to pace Oakland's triumph.

The Yankees won their first game as Johnny Callison drove in the winning run with an 11th-inning single.

Kansas City pounded 10 singles in the second and third innings, including two each by Carl Taylor, Lou Piniella and Bobby Knoop, for six runs en route to its victory over Milwaukee.

Broyle says Razorbacks look 'bad'

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Tuesday the Razorbacks were at a "real difficult stage of practice."

Tired and leg weary from the grueling two-day practices, the players, Broyles said, were at the stage where they "really have to fight to push themselves to even survive."

"The results look bad, progressively worse," he said, "but that's to be expected because they are leg weary."

Broyles added, however, that the bad results of practice so far have not created much concern. "This is what it takes to increase your conditioning, and to be able to withstand the heat and competition," he said. "So, we're not discouraged, even though we're not looking good right now."

'75 opponent for Hogs will be AF Academy

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Tuesday that the Air Force Academy will be Arkansas' opening opponent in Little Rock in 1975.

The Razorbacks' football opener in 1973 will be at Los Angeles against Southern California and in 1974 in Little Rock against Southern Cal.

AP football poll released

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Little Rock Hall, the heavy favorite in Class AAAA football this year, received 11 first-place votes and easily grabbed the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press preseason Arkansas high school football poll released today.

C. W. Keopple's Warriors missed the first-place spot on only one ballot cast by a panel of sportswriters and sportscasters in the Arkansas news media.

That vote went to Little Rock Parkview, which held the No. 2 spot. Hall had 112 total points in the poll and Parkview had 97.

Two more Class AAAA teams, Fort Smith Northside and North Little Rock Ole Main, held the Nos. 3 and 4 spots, but Hot Springs of Class AAA got the fifth spot.

against Pittsburgh last week for his first major league shut-out and retired the last 21 batters, mowed down the first 20 St. Louis hitters Tuesday night before Bernie Carbo broke the spell with a clean double and finished with a three-hit 3-0 victory over the Cardinals.

The string of 41 consecutive outs broke the major league baseball mark of 38 set by Pittsburgh's Harvey Haddix in 1959, 36 of those coming in his memorable 12 perfect innings against the Milwaukee Braves.

Other National League scores: New York Mets 3, Cincinnati 0; Houston 2, Philadelphia 1; Chicago Cubs 2, Los Angeles 1; Pittsburgh 5, San Diego 3; Montreal 4, Atlanta 3.

In the American League, California downed Detroit 3-1, Baltimore whopped Minnesota 9-4, Oakland edged Cleveland 1-0, Boston tripped the Chicago White Sox 3-0, the New York Yankees nipped Texas 7-6 in their 11-inning opener but dropped the nightcap 7-4 and Kansas City shaded Milwaukee 6-4.

Barr, who made 24 relief appearances before getting a start this season, "has earned full-time status as a starter," according to Giants Manager Charlie Fox.

The 6-foot-3, 215-pound University of Southern California grad made only 94 pitches in blanking St. Louis.

Reggie Cleveland of the Cards matched Barr's scoreless hurling until the ninth when Dave Kingman drove in all three runs with a bases-loaded double following an error by third baseman Dwain Anderson, a hit batsman, a sacrifice and an intentional walk to Dave Rader.

Houston made it two in a row under Leo Durocher's leadership when Lee May greeted Philadelphia reliever Mac Scarce with a leadoff home run in the ninth inning. Cesar Cedeño homered in the sixth for Houston's first run and Oscar Gamble tied it in the seventh with a pinch single.

The Astros picked up a game on Cincinnati, which played dead against New York's Jim McAndrew and Tug McGraw, and trail the Reds by 7½ games in the NL West.

Loser Jack Billingham had his scoreless streak ended at 24 innings when Ken Boswell and Ed Kranepool homered for the Mets in the fourth. Tommie Agee connected in the eighth.

McAndrew retired Joe Morgan and Bobby Tolan on infield pops and struck out Johnny Bench after Pete Rose opened the sixth with a triple. But he needed last-out help from McGraw, who retired pinch hitter Hal McRae on a fly to shallow left with the bases loaded.

Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell boosted his major league-leading RBI total to 101 with his 31st home run and a sacrifice fly, which drove in the go-ahead run in the third inning.

Billy Williams accounted for both Chicago runs with a sixth-inning double and Milt Pappas scattered eight hits, including Willie Davis' third-inning homer, as the Cubs edged the Dodgers.

Ken Singleton hit two solo homers in Montreal's triumph over Atlanta. Hank Aaron hit his 665th career homer and Earl Williams also connected for the Braves.

Olympics: Chasing the elusive 'gold'

MUNICH (AP) — "I'm afraid of everybody," said a smiling Mark Spitz.

The handsome Californian has nothing to fear tonight. It's not until Thursday night that he goes after the fourth of what he hopes will be an incredible seven gold medals.

But starting next week, the United States may have plenty to fear—mainly the thought of an Olympic swimming team without Mark Spitz.

The 22-year-old Indiana University dental student racked up his third world record in garnering his third gold of these 20th Summer Games Tuesday, slashing his way to victory in the men's 200-meter freestyle.

Then he told a television interviewer that, whether or not he achieves his seven-gold goal, these Games will probably be his last international competition.

"I have no plans for swimming any more at all, really," Spitz said. "I won't have the time. I'll swim until Monday."

The bronzed, mustachioed Spitz sliced through the water in the 200 freestyle in 1:52.78, unleashing a torpedo-like final lap to shatter his own world mark of 1:53.50 as well as the Olympic standard of 1:55.29 formerly owned by fourth-place finisher Mark Wenden of Australia.

Winning the silver was UCLA student Steve Genter of Lakewood, Calif. Werner Lampe of West Germany was third.

Spitz, of course, wasn't the only American to do well. The United States already owns 15 medals—five gold, six silver and four bronze. That's six more than runner-up East Germany and eight ahead of the Soviet Union.

One of those golds went Tuesday to a California high school student—the Golden State really seems to be living up to its nickname here—in what has to be one of the biggest upsets of the Games thus far.

Sandra Neilson, a giggly, dimpled lass from El Monte, Calif., wrecked Australian wizard Shane Gould's bid for four personal golds by winning the women's 100-meter freestyle in an Olympic-record 58.59—less than a tenth of a second off Miss Gould's world mark.

"I'm just so excited now I feel great," the 18-year-old Miss Nielson bubbled. "I just wanted to get out there and win it. When I got out there I knew I could do it."

Australia's Beverly Whitfield beat out Dana Schoenfeld of Anaheim, Calif., for the gold in the women's 200-meter breaststroke, winning in an Olympic-record 2:41.72, and sensational East German Roland Matthes broke the Games' record by winning the men's 100-meter backstroke in 56.58, followed by Mike Stamm of San Diego and Jerry Murphy of Hinsdale, Ill.

For Miss Schoenfeld, it was a delightful climax to a remarkable comeback. Failing to even qualify for the 1968 Olympics, she gave up training for three years, then decided to take another shot at a spot on the team.

The American basketball team, now unbeaten in 58 Olympic games, raised its record to 3-0 with a 67-48 victory over Cuba.

A REPLICA of the original George Mouser homestead which was located about three miles east of Hope was the center of attention earlier this month when the descendants of George and Phoebe Mouser met at the Hope Coliseum for the seventh annual Mouser-Best reunion. The model was constructed by Roy and Fred Mouser.

Gangster is killed in Dallas shooting

DALLAS (AP) — Stanley Lee Cook, believed by officers to be the enforcer of the loose confederation nicknamed the Dixie Mafia, was shot down in gangland fashion before dawn Wednesday.

The 30-year-old Cook was killed as he and two companions strolled out of a night club. Known to the Dallas underworld and to local and federal agents as "The Creeper," Cook died minutes later in a hospital. Detectives said Cook was struck by a pistol bullet as he and a young woman and a middle-aged companion were walking to a car parked outside the club.

The woman and the man with Cook were taken to police headquarters for lengthy questioning.

Officers said three shots were fired rapidly. One struck Cook under the right arm, another struck a beauty shop window and it could not be determined where the third shot struck.

Cook was named last week in three civil suits along with John Osorio, former Texas insurance commissioner and a defendant in the Sharpstown bank-loan scandals. The suits claim the defendants were trying to take over Century Development Corp. forcibly.

Detectives said the usually well-armed Cook was not carrying a weapon at the time of the 2:20 a.m. shooting.

Cook came to the attention of Dallas officers more than five years ago when detectives began hearing his name during investigations of underworld shootings and killings.

Cook was shot and seriously wounded in a gunfight in Dallas two years ago.

Mouser reunion held

From Tunisia, Africa, New York City, Washington D.C. and seven other states, descendants of George Mouser and Phoebe Best Mouser met on Sunday August 20, 1972 at the Hope Coliseum to observe the seventh annual reunion of the Mouser-Best family.

The Mouser family migrated from Missouri in 1826 and settled about three miles east of Hope in Hempstead County. Two rooms and the hallway of the original log dwelling have survived and are now incorporated as the base of a modern house.

On display was a replica of the original building with rail fence, and outbuildings, which attracted much interest among the children who had never seen the mementoes, and the older people who found memories aroused.

Other interesting displays included pictures, relics, documents, and a family tree, complete to the seventh generation of descendants of George and Phoebe Best Mouser. Members of the family presenting parts on the program included: Miss Sherry Townsend, Miss Doretta Garner, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Townsend, Rev. Roy E. Mouser, Miss Tori Henderson, Miss Tracy Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Campbell, Fred Mouser and Mrs. Roy L. Mouser.

People in the News

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A county judge here says he married famed trial lawyer F. Lee Bailey and airline stewardess Lynda Hart last Saturday, but Bailey's office in Boston declined to confirm that a wedding had taken place.

Polk County District Court Judge Leo Oxberger said Tuesday that some 25 persons attended the wedding of Bailey, 39, and the 25-year-old Miss Hart, a Capitol Airlines stewardess from Nuns Island, Que.

Court records showed that the marriage was Miss Hart's first and the third for Bailey.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — An aide to Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace says doctors at Spain Rehabilitation Center plan to release Wallace "no later than Thursday."

Wallace's press secretary, Billy Joe Camp, said Wallace plans to return immediately to the state capital, Montgomery, then attend the Southern Governors' Conference at Hilton Head, S.C., next week.

Wallace has been undergoing treatment at Spain for paralysis suffered when he was wounded in an assassination attempt.

Methodist Episcopal Church Dedicates New Organ Elaborate Organ Concert

The membership of Bethel A.M.E. Church will hold a formal dedicatory service for its new organ, Sunday night, September 10th, 1972. Preceding the Divine event will be an elaborate organ recital featuring major talent of the Hope-Hempstead County area.

The new organ is a two manual full pedal Baldwin church model instrument consisting of speakers, special percussion chamber, Swell-Great Coupler, pedal-two manual coupler and a concentrated Vibrato System. Complementing the organ is an amplification system with three additional speakers, bass Rotor and vibrational stationary. Sustained on elevated platform, the Rotor-stationary provides colorful pipe organ like tones with audible capacity for a community area embracement.

The Concert starts on Monday, September 4th, and each night of the week, the events are scheduled to commence at 8:00 o'clock. The program reflects the following participants and personalities: Monday night, Mrs. B.C. Hyatt and the Reverend Robert Lee Hyatt; Tuesday night, Mrs. Arthur Stretch; Wednesday night, Tim Gunter; Thursday night, Mrs. Helen Hatch and Miss Mary Nell Branch; Friday night, Mrs. Neva Carmichael and Mrs. Esther Hicks; Sunday night, Mrs. Gwendolyn Marks and the Reverend W.G. Wynn. The Bethel Church congregation expresses most sincere gratitude to all guest participants in this organ musical.

In dedicating the organ, Dr. W.G. Wynn, Bethel's pastor tells his congregation, "It is highly essential that henceforth forever, the glory of Almighty God be the exclusive heir to this divine facility."

You are cordially invited to attend each night and help us to glorify God in this venture.

A 'church anniversary service' will be held at the Free Church of God in Christ in Jesus' Name, Ozan, September 3, 1972. All churches of the area are invited to attend.

A weiner roast will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Norwood, 904 North Walker street, Saturday, September 2. The public is invited.

House Guests

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. London Smith from June 25 to September 2; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy McGill, Sr. and daughter, Carol Venette, Mrs. Bernice Currie and daughter Chiquita, James Moore and son Ruddle, Mr. and Mrs. Bernis Earl McGill and children, Kathy, Bernis, Jr., and Berchase, Mrs. Johnnie B. Funeral services will be held Sunday, September 3, at 2:30 p.m. at the Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, near Blevins, with burial in Moriah Cemetery under the direction of Hicks Funeral Home, Inc.

Dillard Boyd, a former resident of Foreman, Arkansas passed away in New Boston, Texas August 28, 1972.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, September 2, at 11:00 a.m. at the St. James Baptist Church, Foreman, with burial in the Foreman Cemetery under the direction of Hicks Funeral Home, Inc.

Antibusing group will file suit

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — An antibusing group says it will file legal action and mount moral demonstrations against court-ordered busing in the Memphis school system.

The group, Citizens Against Busing, said Tuesday night it will go into U.S. District Court in Memphis and ask that a three-judge panel be appointed to determine the constitutionality of busing.

At the same time, Ken Keele, chairman of the CAB board of directors, said his group "will take whatever action is necessary and oppose by any means possible" implementation of school busing.

Questions and Answers

Q. I receive monthly social security survivors benefits for my son who is 17. He is mentally retarded and will probably never be able to work. Will his benefits stop when he reaches 18?

A. Probably not. You should get in touch with your social security office at least three months before he reaches 18 to see about continuing the benefits past 18 on the basis of his disability.

Q. How can I get complete information on the protection which social security provides for children and young working people?

A. Telephone your social security office and ask for a free copy of the booklet called "Social Security Information for Young Families." It contains some of the most vital information you will ever find concerning the financial security of you and your family. If you have specific questions, representatives at your social security office will be glad to answer them for you.

Q. The term "teleservice" is frequently used in radio and television announcements regarding social security. Would you please explain what is meant by "teleservice"?

A. Most any social security business can be taken care of by telephone including applications. Any necessary forms can be mailed by social security to an individual for signatures and then returned by mail. The agency used the term "teleservice" to help the public know their social security business can be taken care of by telephone.

Synthetic hormone is linked to cancer

BOSTON (AP) — Researchers whose studies first linked a synthetic female hormone to cancer in the children of pregnant women who took the drug say they have uncovered some 80 cases of such tumors since beginning their investigations.

In 1971, Drs. Arthur Herbst, Howard Ulfelder and David Poskanzer, working at Boston's Vincent Memorial Hospital, caused a medical stir when they reported finding eight cases of vaginal cancer during 1966-1969 which were apparently linked to the hormone diethylstilbestrol (DES). They said they discovered that in each case, the mothers of the cancer patients had received DES during pregnancy. They reported there was a "highly significant association" between the mothers taking the drug and vaginal cancer in their young daughters.

Herbst says that since the study appeared, his team has received and confirmed reports on some 80 cases of vaginal tumors in women under 25 from throughout the country and overseas.

He said that even though the use of stilbestrol, a derivative of DES, was widespread in pregnant women in the late 40s and early 50s, the fact that only 80 related cancer cases have been reported would indicate that the risk of cancer in the daughters is "so far not very large."

"We still don't know the risk of any young girl developing a tumor whose mother took the drug, but we feel it is small," he said.

The Herbst team study has two significant medical implications. It is one of the first times that a drug taken by a parent has been linked with disease in offspring occurring so many years later. And unlike the cervix, cancer in the vagina is rare, particularly in the young.

"Although the chance of development of these tumors appears to be very small," the 1971 report noted, "the results of this study suggest that it is unwise to administer stilbestrol to women early in pregnancy."

Beginning in 1946, pregnant women with histories of spontaneous abortions were frequently treated with DES because much was written at the time about the increased success of high-risk pregnancies following the use of the drug.
